

Web sites returned to service

Web Services has mitigated the previously reported problems and the affected web sites and servers are now operating normally.