

Completed wired network security work

The maintenance on Clean Access - the system that authenticates computer connections to Rice's wired network - is complete.