

Yahoo mail delivery

IT discovered that mail sent from rice.edu addresses to yahoo.com addresses (forwarded or sent directly) were being deferred or delayed for 1-2 days, due to problems in the Yahoo mail system. There are no problems with rice.edu mail. We are following Yahoo's posted procedures to correct the problem for messages sent in the last two days. Previously held messages are being delivered now, and the problem will resolve itself in the next few hours.
