

proxy server problems continue

The proxy server that was failing has been shut down but the problems connecting to web mail and owlspace have resurfaced. IT technical staff are evaluating the problem at this time. An all clear will be issued when services are restored.