

Network Router Rebooted in Herring Hall

A network router in Herring Hall rebooted due to software. The redundant router remained up so no network outage was experienced. Network management is investigate the root cause